

Spectrum: Concordia University Research Repository (“Spectrum”) Non-Exclusive License for Electronic Theses

By submitting the electronic version of your thesis to Spectrum, you are agreeing to the terms of the present license. Please read the terms of this license carefully.

Further to the Concordia University (“Concordia”) Policy on Intellectual Property, VPRGS-9, by submitting your thesis (the “Submission”) to Spectrum, you are granting Concordia a non-exclusive, royalty free license to reproduce, migrate (as defined below), archive, preserve, conserve, communicate to the public by telecommunication or on the internet, loan, or distribute the Submission worldwide for non-commercial purposes, in any format including electronic.

You also agree that Concordia may, without changing the content, migrate the Submission to any medium or format for the purpose of preservation.

Concordia may keep more than one copy of this Submission for purposes of security, back-up and preservation. You represent that the Submission is your original work, or that you have the right to grant the rights contained in this license. You also represent that your Submission does not, to the best of your knowledge, infringe upon anyone's copyright.

If the Submission contains material for which you do not hold copyright, you represent that you have obtained the unrestricted permission of the copyright owner to grant Concordia the rights required by this license. Any such third-party owned material is clearly identified and acknowledged within the text or content of the Submission.

If the Submission is based upon work that has been sponsored or supported by an agency or organization other than Concordia, you represent that you have fulfilled any right of review or other obligations required by the agreement with the sponsor.

You understand that the Copyright Act of Canada, R.S.C. 1985, c C-42, as amended from time to time, as well as any legislation which succeeds it, applies to your Submission.

Concordia will clearly identify your name and that of any co-authors, where applicable, as the author(s) or owner(s) of the Submission, and will not make any alteration, other than as allowed by this license, to your Submission.

In the event that you are requesting a deferment of the distribution or publication of your Submission, it is understood that Concordia's license to communicate, loan and/or distribute shall only take effect as of the expiry of the agreed upon deferment period.
